Workers Leave Chrysler Plants In Wage Strike

More Than 72,000 Employees Affected In Walkouts During Morning

FIRST MAJOR AUTO STRIKE OF YEAR

(BULLETIN)

DETROIT, May 12.—(INS)—More than 72,000 UAW-CIO employees of Chrysler corporation employees left their jobs at 10 a. m. (EDT) today to start the year's first major auto strike.

Workers, backing up their wage demands, began trickling from Chrysler's 16 plants 10 minutes before the strike deadline.

First reports indicated that the mass walkout was orderly. Approximately 63,000 production workers laid down their tools in 11 Detroit plants and were joined by 2,500 office workers affiliated with the auto union.

Simultaneous Walkouts

A company spokesman said walkouts were carried out simultaneously at plants in Marysville, Mich.; Kokomo, New Castle and Evansville, Ind., and Los Angeles, Cal.

Union shop stewards and committeemen conducted the mass march with military precision. Picket lines formed as the last workers filed out the plant gates. At the Chrysler headquarters plant on East Jefferson Avenue in Detroit, 8,000 pickets formed a solid line extending more than a block.

Strike signs and posters prepared in advance were paraded and soup kitchens were ready with sandwiches and coffee.

Briggs To Lay Off 11,000

As the giant Chrysler manufacturing empire slowed to a stop, the Briggs Manufacturing Company in Detroit, a major supplier, prepared to lay off 11,000 workers within the next two days.

Those to be laid off at Briggs are employed in the manufacture of bodies for Chrysler cars. A Briggs spokesman said another 2,500 will be laid off if the Chrysler stoppage continues through this week.

Jewish Forces South Of Beersheba Call For Reinforcements

(BULLETIN)

JERUSALEM, May 12.—(INS)—Jaffa, the largest city in Palestine, was under attack today as the fighting near Beersheba flared to the south.

By BENN FELLER

(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

JERUSALEM, May 12.—Jews of four settlements south of Beersheba, 44 miles southwest of Jerusalem, urgently summoned reinforcements today in an effort to ward off a heavy Arab assault.

The Arabs, reportedly an Egyptian force, attacked with light tanks behind a heavy artillery assault. Aircraft of Haganah, Jewish Agency militia, reportedly are being speeded to the scene.

Chair 40 Arabs Killed

The Jews claimed that at least 40 Arabs were killed and scores of others were wounded in yesterday's fighting.

The fighting around Beersheba was one of several fierce battles now in progress at various points in the Holy Land.

One of the oldest churches in Lawrence county, the Wampum Presbyterian church will celebrate its one hundredth anniversary with commemorative dinners and programs beginning on Friday evening, May 14, and continuing through Tuesday evening, May 18.

Starts With Banquet

The anniversary gets under way, Friday evening with a Mothers and Daughters Banquet at which time Mrs. David C. Whitmarsh, of Pittsburgh, will be the principal speaker. With no service planned for Saturday evening, the anniversary will continue on Sunday morning, starting with the Bible school hour when former superintendents, officers and teacher will be in charge.

Father-Sons Banquet

Monday evening, May 17, the second banquet will be given, when the Fathers and Sons will be feted. The address of the evening will be given by Rev. Mason Cochran, pastor of the Highland Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh. Special music will be presented.

The closing anniversary program will be given on Tuesday evening, May 18, at 8 o'clock which will be observed as anniversary night. Greetings will be extended from ministers of the community, from Shenango Presbytery and friends of the congregation. A reception will close the five day celebration and will be held in the church social rooms.

Organized May 18, 1848

The Wampum Presbyterian church, originally organized at the Newport Presbyterian church, May 18, 1848, was born under the efforts of Benjamin Wilkinson and others who were at that time members of the mother church, the Shippery Rock Presbyterian. The first meetings were held in a large house which was built by John Jackson and after left vacant by him. For a portion of the time, the meetings were held in the school house with first church building erected later in 1848 on land given to the church by Robert Davidson.

SORRY, SAYS GIRL ARMY, NAVY LIFE NOT IN HER FUTURE

Bertelle Lou Gwin, of 1217 Francis Place, must be wondering if she isn't the primary object of an armed forces enlistment drive. And Army and Navy recruiters in the city are red-faced and muttering apologies.

Bertelle Lou, who will graduate from senior high school this June, received form letters from both branches of the service asking her if she would be interested in a career in uniform. Neither recruiting office took the name Bertelle to be feminine.

Consolidating their position with the true spirit of the military, the chiefs and sergeants have an answer. If they ever resume the recruiting of Wacs and Waves, Bertelle Lou will be first on the list.

Air Force Moves For Increase Of Bombers' Range

WASHINGTON, May 12.—(INS)—The air force moved today to augment quickly its small stock of heavy bombers by increasing the range of the standard medium bomber, the B-50, successor to the wartime B-29 superfortress.

Under current USAF definition, a heavy bomber is one that has an operational range of 10,000 miles. At present the Giant B-36, Consolidated-Vultee's six-engine ship, is the air force's only heavy. And while it is in production, the B-36 has not yet been delivered in sufficient quantity to make any real addition to U. S. air power.

To Increase Range

The B-50, built by Boeing, has the same bomb capacity—10,000 pounds—as the B-36, but as originally designed, it had a range of only 5,000 miles, and thus was classed as a medium bomber. Plans are now under way to increase the range to 6,000 miles through mechanical refinements and "cruise control".

Even without the additional funds apparently coming from congress, the improvements would give the air force more than 200 heavies.

Contracts have been let for construction of 215 B-50s, and 95 B-36s.

France Against Soviet-American Parley Proposal

Moves Swiftly To Gain Western European Union Support Against Plan

ANOTHER 'MUNICH' FEARED BY FRANCE

(BULLETIN)

PARIS, May 12.—(INS)—France moved swiftly today to gain western European union support against any possible bilateral Soviet-American negotiations for settlement of the east-west struggle.

The French government is determined to throw her full weight against all moves favoring an attempt by Washington or Moscow to deal by themselves, alone with the manifold problems affecting all democratic nations of Europe.

French Worried

The worried French moved to win the support of the four other nations who are members of the Western European Union to prevent any bilateral negotiations. Already assured of Britain's support, the French foreign office is instructing its envoys in Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg to make known France's strong objections to any "big two" attempt to settle world problems by themselves.

Fear Another Munich

The French diplomats will express the hope that the Benelux government will join France and Britain in letting Washington know that any two power deal will cause grave concern within the western European Union.

The French are as eager as anybody to see an understanding evolve between Russia and the west because they are convinced that if war comes in the near future France will be occupied by Soviet troops within a few weeks.

However, the French foreign office foresees a serious danger in another Munich if the United States undertakes to reach a settlement with Russia alone.

Lathrop Waives Hearing Tuesday

William Lathrop, 68-year-old junk dealer recluse, held responsible for the death of Dominick Felo, aged 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Felo, of 1609 Huron avenue, who blundered into the "booby trap," which Lathrop had set up to catch vandals at his shack in an abandoned sand bank, just west of the Savannah road in Shenango Township, waived a hearing when arraigned before Alderman L. C. Mantz, Tuesday afternoon.

The award was made as first prize, when his suggestion of "Castle-Cade" was selected as title for the pageant to be given during the sesqui-centennial in July, in an open contest.

'Cooling Off' Period Seen In Railroad Wage Controversy

By PHILLIPS J. PECK

(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 12.—A "cooling off" period appears to be in store today for rail unions and management before any further attempt to settle the wage dispute which led to federal seizure of the carriers and a court order against a threatened strike.

With the roads operating normally under army control, the government showed no immediate signs of renewing its mediation efforts or urging the parties to resume bargaining on a new agreement covering 150,000 engineers, firemen and switchmen.

One source said that nothing may be done to iron out the wage controversy until after a hearing May 18 on the anti-strike injunction issued by Federal Judge T. Aian Goldsborough.

To Challenge Legality

The union plan to challenge the legality of the order and to resist the government's petition for a permanent injunction.

David B. Robertson, president of the firemen, said the three unions were told by Army Secretary Royall—government operators of the roads—that he does not believe he has the authority to negotiate with the brotherhoods.

Marshall Gives U. S. Attitude On Soviet Move

Invites Russia To End 'Cold War' By Settling Differences Before Existing Agencies

TWO-POWER PARLEY FLATLY REJECTED

By JOHN A. REICHMANN

(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Secretary of State Marshall today invited Russia to end the "cold war" by taking positive action to settle vital differences between the United States and the Soviet Union before existing agencies.

Marshall flatly rejected any two-power conference on matters concerning other nations. He specifically listed Korea, Germany, and Austria as localities "where the utmost difficulties have arisen and stalemates generally resulted."

Marshall opened a news conference with a formal statement which did not foreclose the possibility of a "big four" meeting.

The statement was designed to make clear the role of the United States in the discussions between Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith and Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov which resulted in current talks of "cold war" peace.

'Did Not Ask For Discussion'

The secretary of state said: "General Smith (U. S. Ambassador to Moscow) did not ask for any general discussion or negotiation. 'We have had a long and bitter experience with such efforts. This government has no intention of entering into bi-lateral negotiations with the Soviet government on matters relating to the interests of other governments.'"

He emphasized that any talks on outstanding issues must be conducted in "the body charged with responsibility for these questions"—presumably the Council of Foreign Ministers.

He said forcefully: "What we want is action in the field where action is possible and urgently necessary at the present time."

The salmon colored azalea bush, that towers over 10 feet high at the home of Mrs. E. Conner, 501 Chestnut street, at Walnut, is attracting quite a bit of attention. The bush is beautiful at this time of year and throws off a fine odor.

Just call or write or phone me, and let me know just when, for picnics are my dish and I would like to go again. I know a dandy picnic site down in a shady dell, where the elders nod and bibles bloom and everything is well. A place to spread a picnic lunch with spiders in the jam, and custard pie, and sherry with the salad and the ham. But ask my friends. I like to go, for picnics are some fun, and I enjoy these outdoor snacks, the weather's seventy one.

Marshall Gives U. S. Attitude On Soviet Move

Invites Russia To End 'Cold War' By Settling Differences Before Existing Agencies

TWO-POWER PARLEY FLATLY REJECTED

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Secretary of State Marshall today invited Russia to end the "cold war" by taking positive action to settle the vital differences between the United States and the Soviet Union before existing agencies.

Marshall flatly rejected any two-power conference on matters concerning other nations. He specifically listed Korea, Germany, and Austria as localities "where the utmost difficulties have arisen and stalemates generally resulted."

Marshall opened a news conference with a formal statement which did not foreclose the possibility of a "big four" meeting.

The statement was designed to make clear the role of the United States in the discussions between Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith and Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov which resulted in current talks of "cold war" peace.

"Did Not Ask For Discussion"
The secretary of state said, "General Smith (U. S. Ambassador to Moscow) did not ask for any general discussion or negotiation. "We have had a long and bitter experience with such efforts."

"This government had no intention of entering into bi-lateral negotiations with the Soviet government on matters relating to the interests of other governments."

He emphasized that any talks on outstanding issues must be conducted in "the body charged with responsibility for these questions"—presumably the Council of Foreign Ministers.

He said forcefully: "What we want is action in the field where action is possible and urgently necessary at the present time."

The Security Council and other United Nations bodies, the Korean situation, the Allied Control Council in Berlin and Austrian treaty negotiations he described as fields where action could be taken.

Would Be Unfortunate
The secretary continued: "It would be very unfortunate if an attempt were made to sit down at a table and enter in general discussions and have the discussions result in failure to reach agreements, or result in disputes over the obligations which might be undertaken in such agreements."

"That would do the world great harm, we cannot afford a continuation of such failures. What we must have is successful action where such action is now sorely needed."

Marshall singled out as "very important" a statement made by Russian Foreign Minister Molotov in the Moscow release on the Smith conversation.

The statement was to the effect that the Soviet government could only welcome an international (Continued on Page Two)

U. N. Notified By Britain, Mandate On Palestine Ending

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., May 12.—(INS)—Britain notified the United Nations today that the British high commissioner will sail from Haifa at midnight on May 14 (6 p. m. EDT), officially ending the mandate over Palestine.

Just call or write or phone me, and let me know just when, for picnics are my dish and I would like to go again. I know a dandy picnic site down in a shady dell, where the elders nod and lilacs bloom and everything is well. A place to spread a picnic lunch with spiders in the jam, and custard pie rets chummy with the salad and the ham. But ask me friends, I like to go, for picnics are some fun, and I enjoy these outdoor snacks, the weather's seventy one.

Conference because it has always been a peace-loving nation and plans to carry out that policy consistently.

Confidence Violated
Marshall charged that the Soviet Union had violated a confidence (by publication of the Smith-Molotov conversations) which he indicated was regarded seriously since it is only through the ambassadors in both capitals that the two governments can carry on negotiations. He regretted that these private talks might suffer the hazard of disclosure.

In explaining Smith's interview, Marshall said it was directed "towards a very definite purpose." This, he said, consisted of a confusion in publicity statements and speeches relating to the United States attitude toward the Soviet Union. It was anticipated, he said, that these would probably increase during the coming political campaign.

He said: "It was therefore felt to be highly important to distinguish in the minds of the Soviet government between such statements and the definite policy of this government which remains unchanged."

TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF BESSEMER CLUB

Bessemer Woman's club marked the tenth anniversary of its organization with a dinner in Epworth Methodist church Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Table decorations were in gold and yellow and at each place were miniature corsages as favors.

During the past ten years, since the club was organized on January 18, 1938 by Mrs. L. E. Springer, of Ellwood City, first president of the club, its membership has grown from 18 to 123.

During dinner each of the past presidents present spoke briefly. In addition to Mrs. Springer, they were Mrs. M. L. Moses, Mrs. G. E. Nord, Mrs. F. B. Beale, Mrs. Wayne F. Davis, Mrs. A. W. Lago, Miss Mary Nord, Mrs. R. E. Murland, Mrs. W. F. Miller, and Mrs. Ralph Engle, who presided. Mrs. A. T. Snyder, also a past president, was unable to be present.

A ten-year history of the club in original verse was read for Mrs. Elmer Shaffer by Mrs. Robert Glaspey.

Candlelight installation of new officers was conducted by Mrs. M. L. Moses, at an impressive ceremonial, as follows: president, Mrs. Joseph Martin; first vice president, Mrs. Harry Hinson; second vice president, Mrs. Spencer Carr; third vice president, Mrs. Lawrence Kiminkinen; recording secretary, Mrs. Seldor Byers; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Dale McCurley; financial secretary, Mrs. Ralph Throop. The office of financial secretary is a newly created one.

Revised by-laws of the club, as submitted by Mrs. Wilbur Miller, were adopted as proposed.

On the program the club heard as speaker Marion Foster Smith of Saxonburg who gave a most entertaining talk on "Trees." Mrs. Smith was introduced by Mrs. Robert Glaspey. The speaker mentioned many little-known facts about trees, including the observation that the hemlock was adopted as the state tree in 1930. She spoke of Cook's Forest and contrasted its former natural state with its present commercialization.

Music was furnished by a vocal trio composed of Mrs. Lawrence Kiminkinen, Mrs. Lester Nord, and Mrs. Frank Beale, who sang two groups of selections.

Mrs. Spencer Carr was chairman of dinner arrangements.

Meetings of the club will resume in the fall.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Ostericher, INS Foreign Director

The offer of the international Red Cross to place Jerusalem under its flag and maintain essential hospital and other services gave new emphasis today to the achievements of this organization in the face of endless difficulties.

Utterly realistic, the international Red Cross never has wasted its time, finances or energies in attempting to prevent war. It knows too well the incredible weakness of human nature.

But it has devoted itself to healing the ravages of war. And in view of the bestiality that became so apparent again in the last conflict, its progress is little short of miraculous.

Interesting Background

The IRC has a truly interesting background and it is perhaps unjust that history has not dealt more lavishly with the man responsible for its creation.

He was Jean-Marie Dunant, a soldier in the Swiss Guards at the battle of Solferino in 1859, when the French and Sardinian forces under Napoleon III defeated the Austrians.

It seems that Dunant became the first man in all the centuries of civilized man who saw battle and its aftermath in all its horrors. In 1862 he published a book that he called "A Souvenir of Solferino" and a world that had been blind for ages suddenly stood aghast.

More Than Battle

Solferino was more than a battle on a grand scale, with more than 300,000 men involved. It was a shambles.

Weather conditions, difficulties of transport, an appalling lack of medical supplies, army doctors and hospitals combined to bring about a situation where those who were killed outright were the fortunate ones.

Dunant described in vivid, unemotional detail the plight of the wounded, left to die in their own blood but for whom death was preceded by starvation, thirst and unspeakable suffering.

Dunant's book came to the attention of Gustav Moynier, a Swiss philosopher, and together these two men started out to bring some measure of decency and mercy into war.

Napoleon had seen Solferino with his own eyes and he became a firm supporter. But it took years of painstaking missionary work against their so-called Geneva convention.

In ensuing years and other wars this has been violated. The horrors of Red Cross hospitals became almost commonplace in the second world war. But at least the armies all provided for their own wounded and did much to respect the Red Cross flag.

If Jerusalem accepts and stands by the Red Cross truce the Holy City will be spared and the memory of Jean-Henri Dunant will be brightened anew.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

Just before we went on our Florida trip in March I felt very jittery.

Furthermore, I had been reading a lot about the millions of people who had heart trouble and, as I have been telling you, whenever I read about a heart drive or a cancer drive or a tuberculosis drive, I immediately have all the symptoms of the particular disease on which a drive is being conducted, and run to my doctor.

The usual result is that the doctor tells me there is nothing the matter with me and sends me a bill for anywhere from five to twenty-five dollars, depending on the seriousness of the disease he finds I haven't got.

Well, this time the doctor discovered that my blood-pressure was too high—190 over 100 or something like that.

"Do you smoke much?" he asked. "No," I replied, "only about fifty or sixty pipes a day."

"Will you repeat that?" he requested incredulously, and I did. So he told me to cut out smoking for a month.

I told him that it was impossible for me to write a line unless I was smoking a pipe. "Unless you cut out smoking entirely for a while," he said, "it will be impossible for you to write at all. Because you may really develop heart trouble and then you may not be on this earth much longer to write anything."

So here I was, with more than a hundred pipes all over the house, without having written a line without smoking for one year than I remember—and told not to smoke for a month!

I was sure that my brain would refuse to function, that I wouldn't be able to make a living and that my wife and I would both wind up in the poorhouse.

But I took the bull by the horns. We started out for Florida and I didn't take one single pipe along. At first I was awful. But I sat down and wrote—and strange to say, writing was no more difficult than with a pipe in my mouth.

After the four weeks I lit my first pipe. It tasted bitter. I tried another one. Bitter, too. It's more than seven weeks now since the doctor told me not to smoke for a month—and I have lost my appetite for pipes.

Yesterday I went to the doctor to have my blood-pressure checked. It is normal again.

"Now you can smoke again," the doctor said with a grin. "But I don't feel like it any more," I complained.

He laughed. "I knew darn well you wouldn't."

He explained the phenomenon to me. Habits become more insidious the longer you indulge in them.

Smoking is all right if you don't do too much of it.

Yes, the doctor even said that, after forty, drinking is all right if you do it in moderation.

Moderation—that virtue the absence of which has made many doctors rich and filled hundreds of cemeteries.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Yesterday it even felt like spring-summer . . . cooled down during the night and that makes the householder wonder if he should let the fire in the furnace go out completely or what to do . . . anyhow . . . no matter how you look at it this little poem called Menu for Spring will give a lift in the right places.

Give me the flight of a butterfly.
Or the flame of a high burning candle:
The soaring curve of a bird in the sky.
With the rising of the sun in a dell.
Give me the murmur of a winding brook.
The stirring of the leaves at birth.
The warmth of Spring in a shady nook
And the patter of rain on the thirsty earth.
Add the sweet stirring of wind in the grass—
In the golden glow of the new-born Spring.

How American System Operates

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Since the fateful day, now nearly three years ago, when the atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima, a great many people who formerly paid little attention to politics have been learning how the American system works and how it doesn't work.

That goes for the scientists, who feel a special responsibility for having unlocked the door marked "danger, do not enter."

The other day a group of top scientists, including several who had contributed vitally to the discovery of atomic fission, met with Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper, chairman of the senate-house atomic energy committee.

They listened to Hickenlooper explain why it would be impossible to confirm David Lilienthal and the four other members whom President Truman has reappointed to the Atomic Energy Commission.

Signal For Mudsliding

Hickenlooper told the scientists that a move for confirmation would be the signal for a mud-sliding attack that would come from both Democratic and Republican sides of the senate chamber.

With what seemed to the scientists to be deep sincerity, he expressed concern that the work of the commission would be impaired by such a fight.

His own compromise plan to extend the terms of all commissioners for two years, Hickenlooper argued, would avoid that fight.

Furthermore, as Hickenlooper presented the case, it would give the commission a chance to carry through certain plans now in the transition stage.

An open attack now, with charges and counter-charges flying back and forth, would upset those plans. No body of men, however

MAN AND A PEBBLE

He could do for himself, so he thought, and he said:

"If he had to, he knew he could make his own bed."

Help from a neighbor was seldom his need.

He'd dig his own garden and plant his own seed.

He was strong, he was able, and never was one

To think that a man should be waited upon.

Was there ever a book on the upmost shelf?

Which he wanted to read, he would get it himself.

No valet he needed. Himself he could dress.

Should occasion require, in two minutes or less.

Then one morning he stepped on a pebble and fell.

And they kept him in bed till his ankle got well.

They put on a cast that he thought weighed a ton.

Which stopped him from doing what always he'd done.

Strict orders for quiet the hospital gave.

A nurse came to bathe him; another to shave;

And he learned what pain teaches as nothing else can:

One twist of the ankle and helpless is man.

Second Citizens Of Republic

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 12.—If Joe Martin becomes vice president, he will join John N. Garner and Schuyler Colfax as the only men to be presiding officer over both Houses of Congress.

Garner set a course record for predicting elections, down to the finer details. He predicted, among other things, that the Democratic Convention of 1924 would go 100 ballots and it went 103. He bet Mrs. Roosevelt a dollar that Philadelphia, GOP stronghold, would go Democratic in 1936, and it did. From 1903, when he was elected to Congress down to the present day, Garner never misguessed an over-all election result.

Joe Martin, when I talked to him in the Speaker's room this morning, was also in a predicting mood. He ticked off on his fingers which of the five Representatives defeated in the recent primaries would show up for committee meetings during the remainder of their lamduck term. And he predicted that the GOP would pick up 35 seats in the November elections.

Garner's biography, "Garner of Texas" by his friend and fellow-Texan, Bascom N. Timmons, will spell out Vice President Garner's disapproval of President Roosevelt's recognition of Russia in 1933.

Aaron Burr and Theodore Roosevelt, both combat soldiers, were probably the nerviest of our vice presidents. Once a mob threatened to attack Burr and some of his friends offered to stand guard around his house. Burr thanked them and said: "I will live no longer than I can protect myself." Roosevelt, hit by the bullet of a would-be assassin, calmly proceeded to make a scheduled address.

Only one vice president ever resigned the office. John C. Calhoun did so to run for Senator from South Carolina.

Only two vice presidents have ever served under two presidents. George Clinton of New York backstopped both Jefferson and Madison. Calhoun was the stand-in for J. Q. Adams and Andrew Jackson.

Only one vice president ever held the office for less than 31 days: John Tyler who succeeded W. H. Harrison one month after election.

John Adams called the vice presidency "the most insignificant office ever devised by the mind of man." But that wasn't true at first. The vice presidents of the first two presidents were both elected First Citizens.

The vice presidency ceased being the stepping stone when Thomas Jefferson founded the Virginia Dynasty and made the secretaryship of state the stepping stone. Before Jefferson's first term, two successive vice presidents were elected president. After his second, three successive secretaries of state were elected president.

The line of heirs apparent was broken when J. Q. Adams' appointment of Secretary of State Henry Clay brought the charge of "bargain and corruption." But the line was restored two-fold when Martin Van Buren, who had been both secretary of state and vice president for Jackson, became president.

The only way the line of heirs apparent could be resumed would be for Henry Wallace, F. D. R.'s vice president, to be elected in November. President Truman doesn't count because he has had three years in the White House and must win or lose on his own merits.

Garner came closer than any vice president to getting a third term. There was a move on in 1940 to stave off the Democratic Convention for a Roosevelt-Garner ticket. So Garner, who wanted no part of it, gave Bascom Timmons a note which Timmons kept pinned in his pocket during the wild action at Chicago. But no one to this day can be sure what would have happened if the Convention had drafted Garner as it "drafted" Roosevelt.

The vice presidency has never had a recognized father-son succession, as has the presidency, but J. Q. Adams hinted in his diary that Van Buren was the natural son of Burr who, incidentally, had quite a few natural children.

Jobs Upon A Time

Thomas E. Dewey, governor of New York state and candidate for the presidency of the United States, is a small town boy, born in Owosso, Mich.

Young Tom was a Boy Scout, sang in church choir and worked up a magazine agency. After graduation from University of Michigan and Columbia law school, he entered private practice. He became assistant United States attorney for the New York's southern district and was later elected state's attorney.

Harold Edward Stassen, three times governor of Minnesota, and Republican presidential candidate, was born in St. Paul and is a graduate of the University of Minnesota. After practicing law in St. Paul he became county attorney.

Stassen was elected governor in 1938. He was re-elected twice, resigning during World War II to join the U. S. Navy.

The World and the Mud Puddles

LIBERAL WASHINGTON

What is wrong with the people of the United States?

From time immemorial the loser has paid through the nose. We know that a victory by the Axis Powers would have subjected every person in enemy territory to the most ruthless reprisals, financial and otherwise. For more than two years we have followed literally the enemy through the mud puddles of his aggression in other lands. We have, in plain words, spent about twenty billion dollars since the end of the war to relieve the distress of our enemies and their victims.

Eventually, there comes a time when the most generous philanthropist must stop and ask himself: How much more can be done without wrecking ourselves? # In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Oestreicher, INS Foreign Director

The offer of the International Red Cross to place Jerusalem under its flag and maintain essential hospital and other services gave new emphasis today to the achievement of this organization in the face of endless difficulties.

Utterly realistic, the International Red Cross never has wasted its time, finances or energies in attempting to prevent war. It knows too well the incredible weakness of human nature.

But it has devoted itself to healing the ravages of war. And in view of the bestiality that became so apparent again in the last conflict, its progress is little short of miraculous.

Interesting Background
The ITC has a truly interesting background and it is perhaps unjust that history has not dealt more lavishly with the man responsible for its creation.

He was Jean-Marie Dunant, a soldier in the Swiss Guards at the battle of Solferino in 1859, when the French and Sardinian forces under Napoleon III defeated the Austrians.

It seems that Dunant became the first man in all the centuries of civilized man who saw battle and its aftermath in all its horrors. In 1862 he published a book that he called "A Souvenir Of Solferino" and a world that had been blind for ages suddenly stood aglance.

More Than Battle
Solferino was more than a battle on a grand scale, which more than 300,000 men involved. It was a shambles.

Weather conditions, difficulties of transport, an appalling lack of medical supplies, army doctors and hospitals combined to bring about a situation where those who were killed outright were the fortunate ones.

Dunant described in vivid, unemotional detail the plight of the wounded lying to die in their own blood but for whom death was preceded by starvation, thirst and unspeakable suffering.

Dunant's book came to the attention of Gustav Moynier, a Swiss

An open attack now, with charges and counter-charges flying back and forth, would upset these plans. No body of men, however capable and determined, could have brought about the transition of atomic research from a wartime to a peacetime basis in so short a period.

False Starts and Moves
False starts and moves, certain to be construed at this stage as mistaken, were inevitable. Thus, when the AEC arbitrarily ordered the closing down of the laboratories at Oak Ridge in Tennessee, which were to be re-established later near Chicago, it produced an angry outburst from the hundreds of scientists involved.

There entered in here, too, the south's right to keep this center. That would undoubtedly figure in a confirmation fight.

To say that the scientists were convinced by Hickenlooper's presentation would be an oversimplification. Politics, it seemed to some of them, was a game played by the old rule of heads I win, tails you lose.

What has happened in this connection might have been averted in an election year but from the beginning the likelihood was for just this sort of impasse. It began when President Truman failed to consult Hickenlooper or any member of the senate house atomic committee about his reappointment of the commissioners, whose terms expire in August.

Responsibility On President
The senate-house committee was created under the McMahon act to give broad powers of supervision. That in itself would seem to have put a responsibility on the president to confer with the committee over the all-important appointments.

When he failed to do so, even Hickenlooper asked him to consider a compromise, the storm signals went up. Republicans who had come to Lillenthal's defense last year and had made his original confirmation possible—among them, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg—became convinced the president was deliberately seeking to make a political issue.

Vandenberg makes the point that the law provides for a 12-months shake-down run for the commission and that the fight over the confirmation in last year had the effect of cutting that in half. This is one reason why he favors the Hickenlooper compromise.

Compromise May Result
Without his support, confirmation is obviously impossible. Senator Robert A. Taft is insisting that the terms of the commissioners be extended for only one year. Taft will get some support for this move.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

Tonight in the Cathedral the Greater New Castle Association will mark its tenth birthday. Since 1938 the association has been increasingly effective in New Castle in its industrial and civic activities. It has earned a hearty "Happy Birthday" from us all.

In 1938 the economic skies in New Castle were gray. Smokestacks that once billowed out the sooty evidence of prosperity were cold. Too many of our people were out of work, and combined purchasing power of all our citizens was down to a low point.

Norman A. Clark and a group of thoughtful citizens believed the time was ripe for some action. Out of their ideas and conferences came the Greater New Castle Association. Built along the lines of a Chamber of Commerce it provided a broader base and a wider field of operations.

It may be said that the war brought prosperity to New Castle as it did to other cities but this is not the whole story. The GNCA had done a lot of spade work preparing for the time when industry would be attracted here. When that time came, industries that could be classed as "war babies" were not sought. Industries that promised well for the post-war period were sought.

The wisdom of that policy is seen daily in New Castle. The post-war reconversion period that created instability in many cities was hardly felt here.

During the war the GNCA turned over its whole staff for long periods of time to patriotic endeavors. Scrap drives, bond sales, these and other activities were centered in the GNCA. One evidence of the GNCA's participation in the war effort is the record of bond sales. In every one of the eight war bond sales, Lawrence County passed its quota.

Tonight the decade of service is being celebrated, and well it should be. The Greater New Castle Association has justified its existence many times. It is the service arm of the body politic.

With ten years of service behind it the GNCA looks ahead to the next ten years. It can only increase its scope of activity with increased membership and interest upon the part of the people of New Castle.

To extend an old greeting that is always new "many happy returns and many years of success ahead."

CRITICAL KOREANS

As a rule the Russians are not very good at persuading people to do what they want them to do. That is why they resort to intimidation, coercion and plain brute force to gain their ends. But they usually try milder methods first. And sometimes they have some success.

They are having some success now in Korea. Some time ago they called a "unity conference" at Pyongyang, in their zone, and two Korean leaders from the American-occupied part of the country decided to attend. Returning to Seoul, the pair issued statements showing that they had been sold a bill of goods.

There is some confusion over their attitude. One account said that their statements were contradictory. But both praised the manner in which the Russians have been running things in their zone and were highly critical of American occupation authorities.

As for their charges, they may not be true. It may be that the Russians stay in the background and the Americans "meddle" too much. It may be that industrial progress is more marked in the Russian zone. It may even be that some corruption exists in the American zone—although this accusation was too broad to be recorded credence.

American authorities are setting up a representative government in the U. S. zone. But it is evident that the reds will place every obstacle in its path.

SCHOOLS WEAR OUT

Education, fortunately, is attracting far more of the public's attention than it did only a few years ago. The need for suitable and adequate buildings, as well as competent teachers, is more widely recognized. People are learning that school buildings, good enough in their own way, can wear out or become obsolete like any other plant.

Recognized authorities on the subject declare that many of America's schools have gone out of date. Many buildings constructed as recently as the 1930s now are inadequate.

There are various reasons for this condition of affairs. Growth of population requires increased school space. Improvements in educational practices bring new requirements which cannot be supplied in schools deficient in modern facilities. Wear and tear on buildings take their toll.

A basic principle is involved in operation of the educational program. There is an obligation on each generation to provide, to the extent that is possible, for universal education—to see that there are adequate school facilities for every child. This, of course, costs money, but it is an investment in the future of the country.

We wonder when we will elect the first President who can boast that he was born in a quonset hut.

Aunt Lucy says she can remember back when a lot of reformers used to lecture about the dangers that lay in wait from wearing corsets.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

Just before we went on our Florida trip in March I felt very jittery.

Furthermore, I had been reading a lot about the millions of people who had heart trouble and, as I have been telling you, whenever I read about a heart drive or a cancer drive or a tuberculosis drive, I immediately have all the symptoms of the particular disease on which a drive is being conducted, and run to my doctor.

The doctor tells me there is nothing the matter with me and sends me a bill for anywhere from five to twenty-five dollars, depending on the seriousness of the disease he finds I haven't got.

Well, this time the doctor discovered that my blood-pressure was too high—190 over 100 or something like that.

"Do you smoke much?" he asked.

"No," I replied, "only about fifty or sixty pipes a day."

"Will you repeat that?" he requested incredulously, and I did.

So he told me to cut out smoking for a month.

I told him that it was impossible for me to write a line unless I was smoking a pipe.

"Unless you cut out smoking entirely for a while," he said, "it will be impossible for you to write at all. Because you may really develop heart trouble, and then you may not be on this earth much longer to write anything."

So here I was, with more than a hundred pipes all over the house, with not having written a line without smoking for one year, then I remembered—and told not to smoke for a month.

I was such a fool that my brain would refuse to function, that I wouldn't be able to make a living and that my wife and I would both wind up in the poorhouse.

But I took the bull by the horns. We started out for Florida and I didn't take one single pipe along.

At first it was awful. But I sat down and wrote—and strange to say, writing was no more difficult than with a pipe in my mouth.

After the four weeks I lit my first pipe. It tasted bitter. I tried another one. Bitter, too.

It's more than seven weeks now since the doctor told me not to smoke for a month—and I have lost my appetite for pipes.

Yesterday I went to the doctor to have my blood-pressure checked. It is normal again.

"Now you can smoke again," the doctor said with a grin.

"But I don't feel like it any more," I complained.

He laughed. "I knew darn well you wouldn't."

He explained the phenomenon to me. Habits become more insidious the longer you indulge in them.

Smoking is all right if you don't do too much of it.

Yes, the doctor even said that, after forty, drinking is all right if you do it in moderation.

Moderation—that virtue the absence of which has made many doctors rich and filled hundreds of cemeteries.

The most important people in the world ride in your car. Your family, your friends—yourself. That brings the responsibility right straight home for our families, our friends, and ourselves, too, certainly more home to all of us than anyone else.

What better reason to have your car inspected now. The new inspection period began May 1st. Have your car made safe now for the heavy traffic season ahead.

Give me the flight of a butterfly. Or the flame of a high burning candle. The soaring curve of a bird in the sky. With the rising of the sun in a dell. Give me the murmur of a winding brook. The stirring of the leaves at birth. The warmth of Spring in a shady nook. And the patter of rain on the thirsty earth. Add the sweet stirring of wind in the grass. In the golden glow of the new-born Spring. Or the sparkle of light on shining brass. And the mirrored light that on the water sing. . . . And I will have a wonderful meal. That fills my heart with working zeal.

The senate-house committee was created under the McMahon act to give broad powers of supervision. That in itself would seem to have put a responsibility on the president to confer with the committee over the all-important appointments.

When he failed to do so, even Hickenlooper asked him to consider a compromise, the storm signals went up. Republicans who had come to Lillenthal's defense last year and had made his original confirmation possible—among them, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg—became convinced the president was deliberately seeking to make a political issue.

Vandenberg makes the point that the law provides for a 12-months shake-down run for the commission and that the fight over the confirmation in last year had the effect of cutting that in half. This is one reason why he favors the Hickenlooper compromise.

Compromise May Result
Without his support, confirmation is obviously impossible. Senator Robert A. Taft is insisting that the terms of the commissioners be extended for only one year. Taft will get some support for this move.

By EDGAR A. GUEST

MAN AND A PEBBLE
He said to do himself, so he thought, and he said: "If he had to, he knew he could make his own bed."

He'd dig his own garden and plant his own seed.

He was strong, he was able, and never was one To think that a man should be waited upon.

Was there ever a book on the uppermost shelf Which he wanted to read, he would get it himself.

No valet he needed. Himself he could dress. Should occasion require, in two minutes or less.

Then one morning he stepped on a pebble and fell. And they kept him in bed till his ankle got well.

They put on a cast that he thought weighed a ton. Which stopped him from doing what always he'd done.

Strict orders for quiet the hospital gave. A nurse came to bathe him; another to shave.

And he learned what pain teaches as nothing else could. One twist of the ankle and help—less is man.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Yesterday it even felt like spring-summer . . . cooled down during the night and that makes the household wonder if he should let the fire in the furnace go out completely or what to do . . . any how . . . no matter how you look at it this little poem called Menu for Spring will give a lift in the right places.

Give me the flight of a butterfly. Or the flame of a high burning candle. The soaring curve of a bird in the sky. With the rising of the sun in a dell. Give me the murmur of a winding brook. The stirring of the leaves at birth. The warmth of Spring in a shady nook. And the patter of rain on the thirsty earth. Add the sweet stirring of wind in the grass. In the golden glow of the new-born Spring. Or the sparkle of light on shining brass. And the mirrored light that on the water sing. . . . And I will have a wonderful meal. That fills my heart with working zeal.

Thomas E. Dewey, governor of New York state and candidate for the presidency of the United States, is a small town boy, born in Owosso, Mich. Young Tom was a Boy Scout, sang in church choir and worked up a magazine agency. After graduation from University of Michigan and Columbia law school, he entered private practice. He became assistant United States attorney for the New York's southern district and was later elected state's attorney.

Harold Edward Stassen, three times governor of Minnesota, and Republican presidential candidate, was born in St. Paul and is a graduate of the University of Minnesota. After practicing law in St. Paul he became county attorney. Stassen was elected governor in 1938. He was re-elected twice, resigning during World War II to join the U. S. Navy.

There is news that a trip to the moon won't be feasible for another 200 years. You can start unpacking.

As I understand it, we could get to the moon but we couldn't get out of the rocket. Not even those who have had practice getting out of a subway car.

The threat of a railway strike was received bravely. A number of men told their wives they would not be home for some time.

A few women suggested that they would come to town and share the hardships but in each case their generous offer was rejected.

The railway situation threatened to hog the front pages but John Lewis came through again. He served a 60-day strike notice in hard coal.

Some Stockhandlers Strikes Imminent

CHICAGO, May 12.—(INS)—CIO-Stockhandlers' strikes still threatened five midwest cities to day while immediate walkouts were forestalled in Chicago's huge stockyards and the Sioux City, Ia., yards.

Stockhandlers are scheduled to walk out Friday at Milwaukee, Fort Worth, Tex., St. Joseph, Mo., South St. Paul, Minn., and Fargo, N. D. They originally demanded a 29 cents an hour wage increase, the same as that asked by their affiliate, the CIO United Packinghouse Workers, who have been on strike throughout the nation since March 16.

A last minute settlement of the Stockhandlers' wage dispute prevented a strike at Chicago's sprawling stockyards yesterday, but the international office of the Packinghouse Workers Union refused to ratify the agreement.

Frank Monahan, president of the Chicago Stockhandlers Local 44, said no immediate strike was likely as the result of the international union's cation.

Sanitariums Launch Restaurant Cleanups

HARRISBURG, May 12.—(INS)—

The State Health Department, aware that 40 per cent of communicable diseases are associated with food handling, today announced a spring "clean-up" will be launched in restaurants by 115 sanitarians. Secretary Norris Wister Vaux said that the sanitarians would attend refresher courses before starting the campaign.

The schedule calls for three state instructors to hold sessions at Franklin today; Pittsburgh, tomorrow; Altoona, May 13; Williamsport, May 20. A course was held yesterday at Philipsburg, according to Vaux.

After the refresher courses have been completed, Vaux announced, classes for food handlers will be opened with the aid of the Pennsylvania Restaurant association in any municipality requesting them. Employers with 70 per cent or more of their employees attending the classes will receive a certificate from the department.

PROTEST WAGE TAX

PITTSBURGH, May 12.—(INS)—More than 800 workers at the Westinghouse Air Brake Company's plant in Wilmerding walked off the job yesterday in protest against a wage tax. Wilmerding Borough council, faced with finding the means to raise a $25,000 deficit in its 1948 budget, recently signified intention of authorizing the wage tax which is opposed by the United Electrical, Machine and Radio Workers, CIO.

Between 1929 and 1941, U. S. money spent on gambling machines increased about 1,000 percent; horse and dog racing about 700 percent; stamp and coin collecting 300 percent.

Recording Hand Program Given At New Bedford

The second meeting of the series known as the "Recording Hand Program" planned for 1948 by the Lawrence County Pomona Grange was presented recently at the New Bedford Grange Hall.

Mahoning Valley Grange was in charge of the program opening with "Bringing In The Sheaves", using as the evening topic "Soil Conservation". Woodrow Cowher opened the discussion with a talk on "Contour Strip Cropping". Frank Wright in discussion "Times and Fertilizers", itemized the pros and cons of various fertilizers.

A paper on "Reforestation" was given by Mr. Matthews who highlighted a three point program planned by the state. A duet, "Starlight" was sung by Miss Elmer Robinson and Mrs. Merle Davis with their accompaniment being Mrs. Robert Wallace. Mr. Hays talked about "Cover Crops" with "Weed Control and Proper Rotation" outlined by Mrs. Miller.

Master David Hyter had an enlightening talk on "Soil Erosion in Pennsylvania". A one act play, "A Man Arrives" was presented by Mrs. Roy Schick, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Robinson. The closing number was "Brahms Lullaby" a duet by Miss Robinson and Mrs. Davis with Mrs. Wallace at the piano.

Following the program, the State Master W. Sharp Fullerton, Pomona Master Glenn Patterson and Master Riney of Westfield Grange were introduced and gave short talks. The next program is to be presented at East Brook Grange.

Some Stockhandlers Strikes Imminent

CHICAGO, May 12.—(INS)—CIO-Stockhandlers strikes still threatened five midwest cities today while immediate walkouts were forestalled in Chicago's huge stockyards and the Sioux City, Ia., yards.

Stockhandlers are scheduled to walk out Friday at Milwaukee, Fort Worth, Tex., St. Joseph, Mo., South St. Paul, Minn., and Fargo, N. D. They originally demanded a 25 cents an hour wage increase, the same as that asked by their affiliate, the CIO United Packinghouse Workers, who have been on strike throughout the nation since March 15.

A last minute settlement of the Stockhandlers' wage dispute prevented a strike at Chicago's sprawling stockyards yesterday, but the International Office of the Packinghouse Workers Union refused to ratify the agreement.

Frank Monaghan, president of the Chicago Stockhandlers Local 44, said no immediate strike was likely as the result of the international union's action.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

understand that if we weaken ourselves to or beyond a certain point, we are playing directly into the hands of Moscow and its American agents.

What is the grand desideratum of the Soviet government? The answer is simple and obvious: The economic collapse of the United States. It is upon this hope that all plans of Soviet world domination are founded. If we so manage our affairs that a boom brings its inevitable bust; if we suffer economic crises and mass discontent of the wage workers due to spiraling prices; if we evolve a situation where production is crippled or stopped—then the field, according to Moscow conceptions, is right for the ascendancy of Communism in the United States.

Forbidden By Moscow

Moscow has forbidden participation of the satellite states in the so-called Marshall Plan. One reason for this prohibition is that free enterprise in these states effectually would show up the futility of Communism. But another though is this: Moscow really wants us to wreck our whole economy by pouring out billions of dollars, exporting scarce commodities on a wholesale scale, and contributing such vast quantities of foodstuffs and strategic commodities that our people may suffer, while living costs are skyrocketed to the point where wage workers will be susceptible to propaganda of revolt. Her opposition to the so-called Marshall Plan is a tongue-in-the-cheek matter. What difference if we spend billion dollars in Italy when a military coup can make Italy Communist overnight? What good to donate a billion dollars to France, when the Comintern agents can work a revolution within a week?

Just As Valid Now

It is not romantic to be calculating; it is not chivalric to ask the price. But there was a time—when we were respected all over the world—when Uncle Sam was recognized as a shrewd Yankee. The law of self-preservation is just as valid now as it was then. A father who sacrifices the just rights of his wife and children to give charity to some other family is a proper subject of reproach. A philanthropist who starves himself to hand out largesse to idlers and wasters is given a guardian.

In all reason, for our own sake and for the sake of the world whose future rests upon our economic stability, it is time to take a careful conscientious inventory of what we can afford to do in the form of world philanthropy without wrecking or hopelessly jeopardizing our own country. "He that provideth not for his own household," it was written long ago, "is worse than an infidel." What is wrong and reprehensible about the old-fashioned idea of thinking about America first?

POP GOES THE WEASEL
That's the way the money goes. Pop goes the weasel.

When Grandpa was a boy that was a popular song. The fiddlers played it for dances, too.

At that time eggs sold for eight cents a dozen. Probably Grandpa's mother did not buy any. She sold some. Hucksters and storekeepers bought them.

Eggs are somewhat more expensive now. Everybody buys them.

Protein is a very necessary food stuff. Animal protein is probably the best kind. Meat, eggs, fish, milk and milk products provide animal protein.

Vegetable protein is valuable, too. It works better when combined with animal protein. A small amount of animal protein puts pep into a large amount of vegetable protein.

Mom puts milk in the mashed potatoes. She serves cheese with pie. She puts a small meat ball on a big plate of spaghetti.

Mom keeps her eye on the pocketbook. She tries to get the largest amount of nourishment for her money.

OLD AGE AND TUBERCULOSIS

Tuberculosis is a disease which affects people of all ages. It is found in old people as well as young people.

An old person may have tuberculosis for many years without having much trouble from it. He may think that he has asthma or a cold or weak lungs. He may have a cough for many years caused by tuberculosis. He may become accustomed to it and not be bothered very much.

He may spread the disease among his family and acquaintances for years and never be suspected of having tuberculosis.

A person, old or young, who has a long continued cough should have medical care. The doctor will make X-Ray and laboratory tests for tuberculosis perhaps.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

understand that if we weaken ourselves to or beyond a certain point, we are playing directly into the hands of Moscow and its American agents.

What is the grand desideratum of the Soviet government? The answer is simple and obvious: The economic collapse of the United States. It is upon this hope that all plans of Soviet world domination are founded. If we so manage our affairs that a boom brings its inevitable bust; if we suffer economic collapse and mass discontent of the wage workers due to spiraling prices; if we evolve a situation where production is crippled or stopped—then the field, according to Moscow conceptions, is right for the ascendancy of Communism in the United States.

Forbidden By Moscow
Moscow has forbidden participation of the satellite states in the so-called Marshall Plan. One reason for this prohibition is that free enterprise in the states effectively would show up the futility of Communism. But another though is this: Moscow really wants us to wreck our whole economy by pouring out billions of dollars, exporting scarce commodities on a wholesale scale, and contributing such vast quantities of foodstuffs and strategic commodities that our people may suffer while living costs skyrocketed to the point where wage workers will be susceptible to propaganda of revolt. Her opposition to the so-called Marshall Plan is a tongue-in-the-cheek matter. What difference if we spend billion dollars in Italy when a military coup can make Italy Communist overnight? What good to donate a billion dollars to France, when the Communists agents can work a revolution within a week?

Just As Valid Now
It is not romantic to be calculating; it is not chivalric to ask the price. But there was a time—when we were respected all over the world—when Uncle Sam was recognized as a shrewd Yankee. The law of self-preservation is just as valid now as it was then. A father who sacrifices the just rights of his wife and children to give charity to some other family is a proper subject of reproach. A philanthropist who starves himself to hand out largesse to idlers and wastrels is given a guardian. In all reason, for our own sake and for the sake of the world whose future rests upon our economic stability, it is time to take a careful conscientious inventory of what we can afford to do in the form of world philanthropy without wrecking or hopelessly jeopardizing our own country. "He that provideth not for his own household," it was written long ago, "is worse than an infidel." What is wrong and reprehensible about the old-fashioned idea of thinking about America first?

POP GOES THE WEASEL

That's the way the money goes. Pop goes the weasel.

When Grandpa was a boy that was a popular song. The fiddlers played it for dances, too.

At that time eggs sold for eight cents a dozen. Probably grandpa's mother did not buy any. She sold some. Hucksters and storekeepers bought them.

Eggs are somewhat more expensive now. Everybody buys them.

Protein is a very necessary food stuff. Animal protein is probably the best kind. Meat, eggs, fish, milk and milk products provide animal protein.

Vegetable protein is valuable, too. It works better when combined with animal protein. A small amount of animal protein put into a large amount of vegetable protein.

Mom puts milk in the mashed potatoes. She serves cheese with pie. She puts a small meat ball on a big plate of spaghetti.

Mom keeps her eye on the pocketbook. She tries to get the largest amount of nourishment for her money.

OLD AGE AND TUBERCULOSIS

Tuberculosis is a disease which affects people of all ages. It is found in old people as well as young people.

An old person may have tuberculosis for many years without having much trouble from it.

He may think that he has asthma or a cold or weak lungs. He may have a cough for many years caused by tuberculosis. He may become accustomed to it and not be bothered very much.

He may spread the disease among his family and acquaintances for years and never be suspected of having tuberculosis.

A person, old or young, who has a long continued cough should have medical care. The doctor will make X-Ray and laboratory tests for tuberculosis perhaps.

Trinity Episcopal Church Is Beautiful Building

(Contributed)
Just as the ceremony and ritual, ancient traditions and customs are vital to the Episcopal church, the beauty of the edifice itself is an important factor to the worship of God in His House.

One of the most beautiful Episcopal churches in this section of the country is Trinity Episcopal church. Its parishioners have long been proud of the quiet dignity of the church structure, and when the parish celebrates the 100th anniversary of its founding, many visitors will join them in appreciation of the beauty of the church and its appointments.

The church is cruciform in shape and of Middle English Gothic design. The exterior is of native Pennsylvania stone covered in the traditional English manner with ivy.

Entering the church from the porch or narthex, one is immediately impressed with beauty of the broad obelisk pointed arches and the vaulted effect at the crossing of hand rubbed wood, which presents to the worshiper an air of spaciousness conducive to deep spiritual satisfaction and reverence, adding to the age old impressive liturgy of the church. The lighting is by means of cathedral lights suspended from the ceiling.

Opposite the narthex and at the rear of the church is found the baptistry in which the font, exemplifying the means by which entrance to membership to the church is gained.

The chapel is located in the south transept of the church with its small altar. On the altar is the tabernacle symbol of the tomb of Joseph of Arimathea in which the blessed sacrament is perpetually reserved and before which burns the sacrament light indicating the nearer and real presence of our Lord. Above the altar, and as a backdrop, is the triptych depicting the Maundy Thursday washing of the disciples' feet by our Lord, on either side of which is the tree of life, depicting fruitfulness in acceptance of Christ's way, and the tree of death, depicting barrenness in refusal of Christ's way.

The high altar of the church is traditionally located in the east (liturgically the altar is in the east although it is sometimes impossible to place it in the geographical east) within the sanctuary rail. Approaching the altar at the chancel are three steps symbolic of the Holy Trinity: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Within the sanctuary rail and approaching the altar are three steps symbolizing faith, hope and charity. The three levels of the church approaching the altar symbolize the three states of the Christian life: the nave or body of the church, the church militant on earth; and three steps into the chancel is symbolic of the church expectant in Paradise; up one step into the sanctuary symbolizing the church triumphant in Heaven.

Some of the most outstanding examples of stained glass artistry in this country can be found in Trinity church, many of which were dedicated during the rectorate of the Rev. Robert M. C. Griswold, whose deep appreciation and knowledge of this fine art of the church help to beautify and enrich Trinity church.

ized during the same period and its first superintendent was David S. Pollock, one of the first two elders of the congregation. The first elders elected to the church were David S. Morton who was installed, April 24, 1866. Rev. John H. Aughey became moderator of the session on December 3, 1870 and during his pastorate the churches of Slippery Rock, North Sewickley and Newport were united.

Rev. George S. Rice was installed as the pastor of the Newport and Slippery Rock churches in 1874 and remained as pastor until 1889. The Christian Endeavor Society was founded during his pastorate. On August 31, 1890 a unanimous call was given to Rev. John C. Pickens who served until 1902. Rev. Bert James Long was installed as pastor on June 3, 1902 and served until December 1906.

Full Time Pastors

Rev. Edgar R. Tait became the first full time pastor of the church on November 26, 1907 and served faithfully until October 1914. Rev. James D. Humphrey was installed as pastor on July 7, 1915 leaving his ministry there on September 9, 1917. From November 2, 1917, Rev. Harry E. Woods served as pastor until September 10, 1922.

Rev. J. Greer Bingham's pastorate beginning on October 15, 1922 was the longest in the history of the church. He served until his death on May 11, 1945. He was very active in the work and a tireless worker for the cause.

Rev. J. Henry Thorbauer, present pastor was called to the church in 1946 being duly installed as pastor on January 31, 1947. Miss Buelah L. Wilson, a member of the church served as a missionary teacher in Cuba.

Harrisburg Firemen Somewhat Puzzled

HARRISBURG, May 12.—(INS)—Harrisburg firemen were stumped today when they responded to an alarm in a tobacco and candy warehouse.

Smoke—or what appeared to be smoke—poured from the building. "It looked like a fire and it looked like smoke, but it smelled like perfume," said Fire Chief Earl Swartz. "It beats me."

After a search, firemen found a refrigerator drive belt giving off smoke, which apparently absorbed odors from stored confections before reaching the street.

TRUCK DRIVER IS INJURED IN CRASH

X-rays revealed no fracture had been sustained. He received treatment at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 4:25 p. m. Tuesday.

The program will contain a history of New Castle, pictures of historical spots, points of civil interest, the detail of the sesqui-week's events, and will be a souvenir of the sesqui well worth saving.

Trinity Episcopal Church Is Beautiful Building

(Contributed)
Just as the ceremony and ritual, ancient traditions and customs are vital to the Episcopal church, the beauty of the edifice itself is an important factor to the worship of God in His House.

One of the most beautiful Episcopal churches in this section of the country is Trinity Episcopal church. Its parishioners have long been proud of the quiet dignity of the church structure, and when the parish celebrates the 100th anniversary of its founding, many visitors will join them in appreciation of the beauty of the church and its surroundings.

The church is cruciform in shape and of Middle English Gothic design. The exterior is of native Pennsylvania stone covered in the traditional English manner with ivy.

Entering the church from the porch or narthex, one is immediately impressed with beauty of the broad oblong pointed arches and the vaulted effect at the crossing of hand rubbed wood, which presents to the worshiper an air of spaciousness conducive to deep spiritual satisfaction and reverence, adding to the age old impressive liturgy of the church. The lighting is by means of cathedral lights suspended from the ceiling.

Opposite the narthex and at the rear of the church is found the baptistry in which is the font, exemplifying the means by which entrance and membership to the church is gained.

The chapel is located in the south transept of the church with its small altar. On the altar is the tabernacle symbol of the tomb of Joseph of Arimathea in which the blessed sacrament is perpetually reserved and before which burns the sacrament light indicating the nearer and real presence of our Lord. Above the altar, and as a background, is the triptych depicting the Maundy Thursday washing of the disciples' feet by our Lord, on either side of which is the tree of life, depicting fruitfulness in acceptance of Christ's way, and the life of death, depicting barrenness in refusal of Christ's way.

The high altar of the church is traditionally located in the east liturgically the altar is in the east although it is sometimes impossible to place it in the geographical east with the sanctuary rail. Approaching the altar at the church are three steps symbolizing the three steps of faith, hope and charity. The three levels of the church approaching the altar symbolize the three states of the Christian life: the nave or body of the church, the church militant on earth, and three steps into the church is symbolic of the church militant in Paradise; up one step into the sanctuary symbolizing the church triumphant in Heaven.

Some of the most outstanding examples of stained glass artistry in this country can be found in Trinity church, many of which were dedicated during the rectorate of the Rev. Robert M. C. Griswold, whose deep appreciation and knowledge of this fine art of the church help to beautify and enrich Trinity church.

Harrisburg Firemen Somewhat Puzzled

HARRISBURG, May 12.—(INS)—Harrisburg firemen were stumped today when they responded to an alarm in a tobacco and candy warehouse.

"Smoke—or what appeared to be smoke—poured from the building. It looked like a fire and it looked like smoke, but it smelled like perfume," said Fire Chief Earl Swartz. "It heats me."

After a search, firemen found a refrigerator door left giving off smoke, which apparently absorbed odors from stored confections before reaching the street.

Every year U. S. fire losses total more than $600,000,000.

Lions See Film On Auto Safety At Meeting Tuesday

Ways Not To Drive An Auto Safely
Are Shown In Picture; New Members Honored

New Castle Lions club members were privileged to see a splendid film on auto safety at their meeting, Tuesday noon, through the courtesy of Joe Rick, local auto dealer.

The picture featured Jimmy Lynch and his corps of experienced drivers who took part in many hair-raising stunts, designed to show what automobiles will do under various circumstances, and also many ways not to drive an auto safely.

Larry P. Howell was presented with a Lion Key for securing two new members, and membership certificates were presented to ten new members who have affiliated recently.

They were: Robert Moorehouse, W. J. McCormick, James Wheeler, Rev. Ralph E. Hovenkamp, James Beadle, Richard R. Mason, Frank G. Doerr, Waldron R. Curley, Edward L. Schweinsberg, David E. Rowe.

Guests included W. J. Hemmer, of Pittsburgh; A. H. McKallip, Ernest Drake, and Gene Fox, of New Castle.

A group from the club went to Stoneboro last night, where they assisted with the formation of a new club which is projected for Stoneboro, and which will be constituted in the near future.

Zookeepers buy pythons by the foot, paying between $5 and $10 for each of the first six feet of snake. The rate is much higher after the first six feet.

CABBAGE MAGGOTS BEGIN TO EMERGE

Prompt treatment of all cabbage and cauliflower plants already set is urged for the control of cabbage maggots which begin to emerge as flies late in April to lay their eggs at the base of these plants on warm, quiet days.

Plants set out during May should be treated within five days of planting. One of three treatments may be used. One of these is calomel dust which can be purchased ready mixed. It can be applied with a hand duster on a calm day—2 or 3 puffs at the base of each plant. About 50 pounds of dust (2 pounds of calomel to 48 pounds of talc or ground limestone) will cover an acre of plants.

Another treatment, bichloride of mercury solution (handled in wooden or earthenware containers) may be applied in half-teacup doses to the base of each plant, with a repeat application in 10 days, especially in wet weather.

Dissolve an ounce of bichloride of mercury in ten gallons of water.

Close cultivation of the plants should be avoided after either of these treatments is applied. The same treatments may be applied to late cabbage or cauliflower seedbeds, a first dose when two pairs of leaves appear and another in 10 to 14 days.

Still another treatment—calomel-starch dust—made by mixing 1 pound of calomel with 1 pound of corn starch, may be applied to plants before they are set out. Lay the pulled plants on a board and dampen the stems with water. Apply the calomel-starch dust to the stems with a salt shaker. Do not apply it to the roots.

ELM LEAF BEETLE GETS EARLY START

DDT or arsenate of lead sprays applied when the larvae are feeding offer the best control of elm leaf beetles which are making their appearance about a month early this year. Detailed information on preparation of the sprays may be obtained at the Agricultural Extension Office, 206 Post Office Bldg., New Castle, Pa.

Soon after hibernating adult beetles emerge they start laying eggs. These hatch in about one week. Larvae feed on the undersurface of elm leaves. Damaged leaves turn brown and fall off. Where infestation is heavy, entire trees can be defoliated.

Occasionally the beetles find their way into houses and become a nuisance. They can be swept up by a broom or vacuum cleaner and destroyed as another means of control.

Nation-Wide Hunt For Philadelphian

PHILADELPHIA, May 12.—(INS)—Nation-wide search was pressed today for a man accused of aiding the escape of two suspected killers of Patrolman Cecil Ingling in January, 1947.

David Almeida and James F. Smith named John McMahon, of Philadelphia, as the one who helped them shortly after the shooting of Ingling during an attempted chain-store holdup.

Smith and Almeida were captured later and are serving terms in Lewisburg penitentiary for a bank hold-up in New Orleans. They face trial in Philadelphia for the Ingling slaying.

Good Taste By FRANCINE MARKEL

"My son is about to marry a former sweetheart who is now divorced. Please tell me if I should write to her and what to say."

Answer: If you are living near her, you and your husband should call on her. If distance prohibits such a call, write her a letter welcoming her into the family and inviting her to visit you.

This you should do whether or not you approve of the marriage.

Question: (1) who pays for the flowers for the bridesmaids, maid-of-honor and the ushers? (2) Is it at all possible for the maid-of-honor and the bridesmaids to wear white shoes instead of the usual silver or gold in a Spring wedding? It will be a rainbow wedding. (3) Are pink and blue the only two colors the maid-of-honor may wear?

Answer: (1) The groom, usually. (2) They should wear shoes to match or harmonize with their dresses. (3) Indeed, no, she may wear whatever color she and the bride choose.

Question: At her wedding reception the bride and her parents supposed to help pay for the hall, refreshments, beverages, etc.? Is it a half-and-half proposition or should this expense fall on the groom and his parents?

Answer: The bride's family should pay the entire expenses of the reception.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Chili Denies Posing In Nude

Mrs. Mura Moran, Wife Of Artist
Earl Moran, Charges
Nude Posing

LOS ANGELES, May 12.—(INS)—Movie Actress Chili Williams wants it understood she did not pose in the nude for calendar artist Earl S. Moran, 33.

Furthermore, she wants it known she was not behind a screen nude in Moran's New York studio while Moran wandered around clad only in his shorts one day when the artist's wife dropped in. Miss Williams' voice was strictly un-chilly when she took the witness stand Monday to answer Mrs. Mura Moran's charges of nudity.

It happened in Superior Judge Ben V. Currier's court where Moran and his 36-year-old wife are contesting a separation action and a divorce suit. She wants separate maintenance of $1,200 a month. Moran wants a divorce.

Chili Indignant
Mrs. Moran charged in her complaint that when she visited her husband's studio she found Chili behind a screen in the nude and her husband wearing only shorts, shoes and socks. Testified Miss Williams.

Certainly he was in shorts. It was a hot summer day. Like other artists, he painted in shorts. But they were sports shorts. And far from being nude, I was fully dressed that day when Mrs. Moran came in. I have never posed for Moran in the nude.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, May 12.—(INS)—Robert Montgomery, one of the best-looking guys in the movie dodge, has never been known as a great screen actor. He isn't because he lacks a deep-throated continental accent, once pertinent parts of a Hollywood lover's standard equipment.

And it isn't a lack of armor-bent leading ladies. The joint is jumpin' with them.

Montgomery himself lamented today—as he computed on his digits the number of glasses he will bestow upon the Bette Davis ruby-red.

"Nobody, not even my leading ladies, can take me seriously in love scenes."

Can't Be Serious

One of his former cinema sweethearts, who asked to be unnamed (which is a startling state of affairs for Hollywood), almost holed her.

"How the heck can you be serious when you're in love?" she asked him.

That silly Jack-O-Lantern grin, parlayed with his jaunty air and wit, sense of humor, has kept him from attaining the high-pressure status in the love department of, say, a Rudolph Valentino or Robert Taylor or Errol Flynn.

Errol Just Leers

(Flynn, of course, does not grin. He makes with a Luau of a leer and lets the movie mamas melt.)

Among Montgomery's teen-age admirers, the consensus seems to be captured in the words of one birdbrain chick who said of him:

"He's awfully cute, but he isn't swooney—if you know what I mean."

Montgomery knows what she means. "Cute" is an adjective that has hounded the guy since he first began tramping around the ham hamlet.

The movie brass tossed Montgomery to Greta Garbo for "inspiration." That was the one where "Garbo talks!"

Figuratively speaking he was chucked into John Gilbert's shoes. But Gilbert's brogans apparently were too big. Nobody could do anything to change Montgomery from a school boy charmer to a sultry lover.

But the technique was successful enough that Miss Garbo (maybe because she wanted to be alone) was followed by a long string of female companions.

Had Some Beauties

In slow succession Montgomery pitched woo on the screen to Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford, Rosalind Russell, Carole Lombard, Irene Dunne, Ingrid Bergman, Audrey Trotter, Wanda Hendrix, Susan Hayward and now Bette Davis, which all adds up to a lot of dollars, if nothing else.

So 17 years after his first baby-faced advances to Garbo in "Inspiration," Montgomery still is suffering from the handicap of not being able to convince his leading ladies that he means it when he presses them against his manly bosom and nibbles at their earlobes.

Wrong Racket

He does the same to Bette Davis nine different and distinct times in "June Bride" at Warner Brothers film factory.

Montgomery growled: "She laughs at me, I'll slug her! So help, I'll beat the dame's brains in!"

It ain't hallowe'en, Hector, but what a spot for a Jack-O-Lantern mug! Maybe we're in the wrong racket.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, May 12.—(INS)—Robert Montgomery, one of the best-looking guys in the movie dodge, has never been known as a great screen actor. He isn't bad, but he lacks a bedroom burble and a deep-throated continental accent, once pertinent parts of a Hollywood lover's standard equipment.

And it isn't a lack of armor-plated leading ladies. The joint is jumping with them.

Montgomery himself lamented today—as he computed on his digits the number of kisses he will bestow upon the Betty Davis ruby-red.

"Nobody, not even my leading ladies, can take me seriously in love scenes."

Can't Be Serious

One of his former cinema sweethearts, who asked to be unnamed (which is a startling state of affairs for Hollywood), almost hollered.

"How the heck can you be serious when you're smiling when he comes at you with that Jack-O-Lantern grin of his?"

"That silly Jack-O-Lantern grin, parlayed with his jaunty air and sense of humor, has kept me from attaining the high-pressure status in the love department of, say, a Rudolph Valentino or Robert Taylor or Errol Flynn."

Errol Just Leers

(Flynn, of course, does not grin, he smokes with a Lulu of a leer and lets the movie mamas melt.)

Among Montgomery's teen-age admirers, the consensus seems to be captured in the words of one birdbrain chick who said of him:

"He's awfully cute, but he isn't swooney—if you know what I mean."

Montgomery knows what she means. "Cute" is an adjective that has hounded the guy since he first began tramping around the hand hamlet.

The movie brass tossed Montgomery to Greta Garbo for "inspiration." That was the one where "Garbo talks."

Figuratively speaking he was chucked into John Gilbert's shoes. But Gilbert's brogans apparently were too big. Nobody could do anything to change Montgomery from a school boy charmer to a sultry lover.

But the technique was successful enough that Miss Garbo (may be because she wanted to be alone) was followed by a long string of female companions.

Had Some Beauties

In slow succession Montgomery pitched woo on the screen to Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford, Rosalind Russell, Carole Lombard, Irene Dunne, Ingrid Bergman, Audrey Trotter, Wanda Hendrix, Susan Hayward and now Betty Davis which all adds up to a lot of dolls, if nothing else.

So 17 years after his first baby-faced advances to Garbo in "Inspiration," Montgomery still is suffering from the handicap of not being able to convince his leading ladies that he means it when he presses them against his manly bosom and pibble at their earlobes.

and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

SIXTY years ago, Dr. Horne, a German scientist, discovered the source of GEO-MINERAL. In a remote spot in Mississippi, he found that in several small strata about fifteen feet below the ground surface, was a layer of mineral bearing clay. He also learned that for years, first the Indians and then the people living in this section had been using minerals extracted from this clay for many medicinal purposes. He heard many stories from people who had been relieved of various ailments by drinking a solution of minerals extracted from this clay. The scientist opened a mine there, and ever since, the fame of this natural mineral medicine has spread throughout the wide continent.

Drugless Health!

REGARDLESS of how long you have been sick, and how many medicines you tried before, you can now hope for relief if you try GEO-MINERAL. Your trouble may be mineral-iron deficiency. Lack of minerals makes your blood weak, your resistance low — run down. Simple anemia, headaches, nervousness, gas, toxins, indigestion, and other symptoms may be present. Arthritis and rheumatic pains also may develop. GEO-MINERAL helps to enrich your blood, and make you strong, full of pep, life and energy.

HIPOCRATES was the father of medicine. Ever since his time, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. Doctors today use minerals as basic material in many of their prescriptions. GEO-MINERAL contains minerals found in the world's best springs. Watch the results a day or two after using it. The housecleaning it will do in your body, the poisons it will bring out. When you see this, do not get alarmed — thank Nature who created GEO-MINERAL, as a sign that the medicine is working on you, and realize its priceless value.

Wonder Minerals

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ill. People, on the advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The most important of our people, including doctors, go to mineral springs. They would not believe these springs without any benefit.

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wonderful springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thermen in ancient Greece where, according to legend, the gods, the goddesses, and strength, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

Rich Red Blood

MEDICAL records show 95% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional iron deficiency. When you feel nervous, get lousy, have dizziness, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, feel tired, when your eyes lack their sparkle, and your mind is brilliant, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and when life seems not worth living — it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is what you need.

GEO-MINERAL is not a physic, and does not interfere with the food you eat. It is a natural, rich red blood, helps to build up and sustain your system to throw away poisons. When the poisons are out of your system, you begin to feel a new life, as Nature starts to complete the recovery.

Stern Policy On Soviet Remains

President Truman Makes U. S. Position Plain As Result Of Soviet Move

WILL BE NO CHANGE IN U. S. POSITION

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 12.—President Truman made it plain Tuesday that the United States will not make hat-in-hand overtures to Russia in the hope of ending the "cold war."

At the same time, the chief executive left the door open for possible U. S.-Russian discussion of differences between the two great powers by saying:

"This government wishes to make it unmistakably clear that the United States has no hostile or aggressive designs whatsoever with respect to the Soviet Union."

Takes Unusual Step

The President took the unusual step of issuing a special statement following the Moscow radio's announcement that Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith had proposed open discussion of "differences" between the two nations and that Russia was favorable to the suggestion.

Mr. Truman's statement was viewed by some observers as an effort to "cool off" the propaganda effect of the Russian announcement. Smith said he was "surprised" at the Moscow broadcast because he considered the U. S.-Russian notes confidential.

The President said that "it was important that there should be no misconception or confusion in the minds of the Soviet government concerning the position of this government."

Mr. Truman declared that the European recovery program and the decision to strengthen United States military forces had the "support of the overwhelming majority of the American People."

To Maintain Policy

He thus served notice on the Kremlin that the United States is firmly prepared to maintain its stern policy toward Russian aggression.

Some responsible officials looked with suspicion on the Moscow "acceptance" of an invitation "not officially extended." An atmosphere of extreme caution prevailed in policy making quarters.

In high official circles, it was emphasized that Russia would have to list the subjects she wanted to debate, as a preliminary to any discussion of standing issues.

Any thought of a two-power conference on issues involving other powers was ruled out.

Officials said that such problems as Germany, Korea, Trieste and Austria would necessitate participation of all interested governments.

They pointed out that the Soviet settlement of most of the Soviet-American differences already exists in the Council of Foreign Ministers, the Control Group in Berlin, and the Control Council for Austria.

Headquarters, western Pennsylvania military district, Old Post Office building, Pittsburgh, has recently published orders appointing Capt. John J. Gluch, Jr., CAC, as the unit instructor for various organized Reserve Corps units located in Lawrence and Beaver counties.

With headquarters located on the fifth floor of the Greer building, rooms 515 and 516, New Castle, Capt. Gluch will assist in the activation and training of various reserve units as assigned by the department of the army to this district. Several units are at present in the process of activation. Reservists who may have any problems or who desire information regarding reserve affairs may direct them to the Reserve Corps headquarters for clarification.

Capt. Gluch with over six years army service has served two years in the European theatre of operations, his principal assignment being with an anti-aircraft unit attached to the XIX Corps and second armored division. ## Dr. Flannery Gives Warning To Doctors

Mater Of Doctors Available For Night Calls To Be Subject Of Questionnaire

HARRISBURG, May 12.—(INS)—A program to assure emergency medical service throughout Pennsylvania will be launched in June by the State Medical society.

A spokesman announced questionnaires will be issued to local physicians to determine localities for night calls. In those areas, every effort will be made to set up a system of emergency service, he said.

The program was prompted by a severe reprimand from Dr. Wilbur E. Flannery, of New Castle, who warned that unless doctors cooperated in handling midnight cases they might find themselves regimented by a disgruntled public. Some people felt socialized medicine was the answer to curb rejections by physicians often weary with work, he explained.

Plans Accelerated
As a result of his warning, Erie physicians have accelerated plans for a cooperative emergency referral bureau.

Two general hospitals in Erie will be call stations, the spokesman said.

The system will be set up so that doctors who make night calls will receive compensation from patients who afterward turn again to their regular physicians, he said.

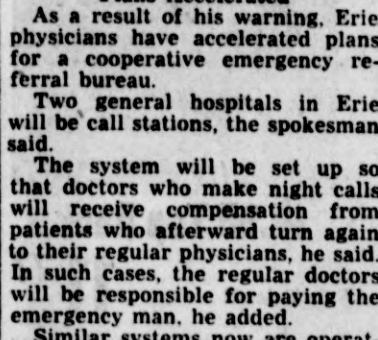

In such cases, the regular doctors will be responsible for paying the emergency man, he added.

Similar systems now are operating in Harrisburg, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia and a half dozen other communities, according to the society.

The combined use of two wonder drugs has brought promising results in the treatment of tuberculosis meningitis, once nearly always fatal. The drugs are streptomycin and promizole.

and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Blotting, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite, Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

SIXTY years ago, Dr. H. H. H. discovered the source of GEO-MINERAL. In a remote spot in Mississippi, he found that in several small areas, about three feet below the surface, there was a layer of mineral-bearing clay. He also learned that for years, first the Indians and then the people living in this section had been using minerals extracted from this clay for many medicinal purposes. He heard many stories from people who had been relieved of various ailments by drinking a solution of minerals extracted from this clay. The scientist opened a mine there and ever since, the fame of this natural mineral medicine has spread throughout the wide continent.

Drugless Health!

REGARDLESS of how long you have been sick and how many medicines you tried before, you can now hope for relief if you try GEO-MINERAL. Your trouble may be mineral-iron deficiency, lack of mineral, weak blood, weak, your resistance low — run down. Simple anemia, headaches, nervousness, gas, toxins, indigestion, and other symptoms may be present. Arthritis and rheumatic pains also may develop. GEO-MINERAL helps to enrich your blood, and make you strong, full of pep, life and energy.

HIPOCRATES was the father of medicine. Ever since his time, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. Doctors today use minerals as a basic material in many of their prescriptions. GEO-MINERAL contains minerals found in the world's best springs. Watch the results a day or two after using it. The housecleaning it will do in your body, the poison it will bring out. When you see this, do not get alarmed. Thank Nature who created GEO-MINERAL. It is a sign that the medicine is working on you, and realize its priceless value.

Wonder Minerals

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often the cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ailments. People, on the advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The most important of our people, including doctors, go to mineral springs. They would not purchase these springs without any benefit.

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their mineral waters. We have all heard of the wonderful springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thonon in ancient Greece where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of strength and strength, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

Rich Red Blood

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from "nutritional iron deficiency." When you feel nervous, dull, lazy, have dizziness, no ambition to work, a poor appetite, feel weak, with your eyes back that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and when life seems not worth living — it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL then is what you need.

GEO-MINERAL is a pure, natural mineral. It is a mineral-rich, supplies iron and other rich red blood, helps to build you up and assists your system to throw away poisons. When the poisons are out of your system, you begin to feel a new life, as Nature starts to complete the recovery.

100% Guaranteed!

WE urge everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not satisfied, your money will be refunded in full.

TRY it today — it may do wonders for you, and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

SHOW GEO-MINERAL to your doctor and let him tell you, after he reads the formula on the label, about its merit. GEO-MINERAL contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil, NO harmful drugs. NO dose — is NON-habit forming. Contains ONLY Natural mineral ingredients highly recommended by the medical profession.

ECKERD'S DRUG STORE

Read What They Say!

Pharmacists, like doctors, know medicine best. Thousands of druggists of high reputation, who now sell Geo-Mineral, report amazing results by its use.

"We not only sell Geo-Mineral," says G. A. Littlefield, Manager of Smith's Drug Store, Gastonia, N. C., "but as pharmacists, we know good medicine, and we believe there is none better than Geo-Mineral as a supplement for mineral deficiency. Doctors, hospitals, sanatoriums know the value of natural minerals. We are not surprised at the many users who come back to buy more and told us stories of amazing benefit. We recommend it to our friends, relatives, and beloved ones, and to every one wishing for better health."

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store," reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results, helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggist's shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds made."

"We have sold Geo-Mineral for the last six months and it has been one of the best selling drug items we have ever handled," says Foster Bros., pharmacists of Concord, N. C. "Users report amazing results in many instances, and we personally believe Geo-Mineral is a good medicine for purposes as indicated, and recommend it to sufferers who have tried other medicines with little if any results. They may discover that Geo-Mineral is what they have been needing and looking for." — We unhesitatingly recommend it."

Stern Policy On Soviet Remains

President Truman Makes U. S. Position Plain As Result Of Soviet Move

WILL BE NO CHANGE IN U. S. POSITION

By JOHN A. REICHMANN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 12.—President Truman made it plain Tuesday that the United States will not make hat-in-hand overtures to Russia in the hope of ending the "cold war."

At the same time, the chief executive left the door open for possible U. S.-Russian discussion of differences between the two great powers by saying:

"This government wishes to make it unmistakably clear that the United States has no hostile or aggressive designs whatsoever with respect to the Soviet Union."

Takes Unusual Step
The President took the unusual step of issuing a special statement following the Moscow radio's announcement that Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith had proposed open discussion of "differences" between the two nations and that Russia was favorable to the suggestion.

Mr. Truman's statement was viewed by some observers as an effort to "cool off" the propaganda effect of the Russian announcement. Smith said he was "surprised" at the Moscow broadcast because he considered the U. S.-Russian notes confidential.

The President said that "it was important that there should be no misconception or confusion in the minds of the Soviet government concerning the position of this government."

Mr. Truman declared that the European recovery program and the decision to strengthen United States military forces had the "support of the overwhelming majority of the American people."

To Maintain Policy
He thus conveyed notice to the Kremlin that the United States is firmly prepared to maintain its stern policy toward Russian aggression.

Some responsible officials looked with suspicion on the Moscow "acceptance" of an invitation "not officially extended." An atmosphere of extreme caution prevailed in Policy making quarters.

In high official circles, it was emphasized that Russia would have to list the subjects she wanted to debate, as a preliminary to any discussion of standing issues.

Any thought of a two-power conference on issues involving other powers was ruled out.

Officials said that such problems as Germany, Korea, Trieste and Austria would necessitate participation of all interested governments.

It was pointed out that the Soviet settlement of most of the Soviet-American differences already exists in the Council of Foreign Ministers, the Control Group in Berlin, and the Control Council for Austria.

Duff Endorses 28th Recruiting Plans In State

HARRISBURG, May 12.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff has endorsed the recruiting campaign of the Pennsylvania National Guard's 28th infantry division to add 1,600 men to its complement of 8,400 troops.

The drive began yesterday and will continue through June 30. Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, commander, hopes to round out the division's allotment of 10,000 men strength in time for summer maneuvers at the Indiantown Gap military reservation August 14-28.

"This project has my complete endorsement because this fine division, with tradition that means so much to Pennsylvania, aspires to be one of the outstanding infantry divisions of the nation," the governor stated.

He said the unit was attempting to be "ready to take its part in any emergency that may affect the state or nation."

"I particularly urge young men in school, business, on the job or otherwise engaged, to take advantage now of becoming a member of one of the 28th Division units. This will enable them to take part in the field and camp exercises at Indiantown Gap military reservation in August."

Two Jap Generals Face Nanking Trial And Possibly Death

TOKYO, May 12.—(INS)—(INS)—Kenshiro Shibayama and Masatane Kanda, one time lieutenant generals in the defunct Japanese army, were arrested in Tokyo today for removal to Nanking where they will be tried by a Chinese military commission.

Few Japanese tried for war crimes in China escape the death penalty.

Shibayama, who testified for the defense at the international war crime trial in Tokyo, is accused of having plotted the Marco Polo bridge incident which started the Sino-Japanese war in 1937. He also is accused of having established and directed Japan's puppet government in Nanking.

Kanda's Sixth Imperial Division is accused of the slaughter of more than 5,000 civilians in central China shortly after the attack on Peking Harbor.

Shibayama was a vice minister of war in the cabinet of Premier Koiso.

Duff Endorses 28th Recruiting Plans In State

HARRISBURG, May 12.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff has endorsed the recruiting campaign of the Pennsylvania National Guard's 28th infantry division to add 1,600 men to its complement of 8,400 troops.

The drive began yesterday and will continue through June 30. Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, commander, hopes to round out the division's allotted 10,000-man strength in time for summer maneuvers at the Indiantown Gap military reservation August 14-28.

This project has my complete endorsement because this fine division, with tradition that means so much to Pennsylvania, applies to be one of the outstanding infantry divisions of the nation," the governor stated.

Ready for Emergence

"I particularly urge young men in school, business, on the job or otherwise engaged, to take advantage now of becoming a member of one of the 28th Division units. This will enable them to take part in the field and camp exercises at Indiantown Gap military reservation in August."

Two Jap Generals Face Nanking Trial And Possibly Death

TOKYO, May 12.—(INS)—(INS)—Kenshiro Shibayama and Masatane Kanda, one time lieutenant generals in the defunct Japanese army, were arrested in Tokyo today for removal to Nanking where they will be tried by a Chinese military commission.

Few Japanese tried for war crimes in China escape the death penalty.

Shibayama, who testified for the defense at the international war crime trial in Tokyo, is accused of having plotted the Marco Polo bridge incident which started the Sino-Japanese war in 1937. He also is accused of having established and directed Japan's puppet government in Nanking.

Kanda's Sixth Imperial Division is accused of the slaughter of more than 5,000 civilians in central China shortly after the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Shibayama was a vice minister of war in the cabinet of Premier Koiso.

State Meeting To Be Held Here

Fifty Electric Company System Operators To Have Two-Day Session

Electric company system operators from all parts of Pennsylvania will attend a meeting of the system's operations committee of the Pennsylvania Electric Association to be held at The Castleton hotel Thursday and Friday.

It is expected that more than 50 company representatives will attend the meeting. Webb Phillips of the Pennsylvania-New Jersey Interconnection is chairman of the committee, and William Bryson of Pittsburgh is secretary; E. C. Ruby of Pennsylvania Power company is a member of the committee.

The program includes a number of papers on problems of the load dispatcher or system operator. Advances in this work in recent years have contributed greatly to the efficiency of power interconnections. Through the operation of such interconnections, power companies throughout the country have been better able to take care of the greatly expanded demand for service.

The program for the meeting includes an inspection trip through the Westinghouse transformer plant in Sharon on Friday afternoon.

Girl Scouts Will Have Yearly Dinner

Girl Scouts of New Castle have completed plans for the yearly dinner which will take place Thursday evening, May 13, at 6 o'clock in the Cathedral. This year's event will honor the mothers and fathers of the scouts. Adult scout workers will also be included in the guest list.

The general theme of the program will be centered around the clothing drive which is the National Scout project for this year. It is the goal of Girl Scouts of America to clothe 100,000 children of Europe. The troops of New Castle have already packed a number of kits of clothing for the needy children of other lands.

Among people who permit polygyny (the system under which a man is married to several women at the same time), the majority live in monogamy, it is said. One reason is the expense of multiple marriage.

Chrysler Strike In Detroit Has
Some Effect On Market
Trend This Morning

NEW YORK, May 12.—(INS)—
Stocks drifted irregularly lower in moderately active trading this morning.

The Chrysler strike in Detroit,
the first major auto walkout since
November 1945, weighted most groups. Losses were generally fractional.

Aviations moved counter to the downtrend, staging a modest rally
after yesterday's sell-off.

Trading in the initial hour was less than the 400,000 shares in the same period Tuesday.

Chrysler was down nearly a point at the start of the second
hour. General Motors and Studebaker eased. Steels and rails were softer. Coppers, oils, and most high priced chemicals lost ground.

Lockheed and Douglas recovered
fractionally.

Railroad bonds were irregularly
lower. Curb shares followed a narrow, mixed trend. Grains opened firm but cotton was reactionary.

tice last night. He had been op-tioned to the Class D club by the Chicago Cubs only last Sunday.

He was a native of Somerville,
Mass. Club officials said he recently had been hospitalized with influenza.

feated the Slippery Rock State
Teachers in a golf match yesterday at the New Castle Country

er's five-foot putt on the final green gaining a half point and a match. It was the ninth Titan

LOSES NO-HITTER

PITTSBURGH, May 12.—(INS)—
A high school pitcher hurled a no hit game Tuesday—and lost.
Charley Jones of Derry Boro was beaten 3-2 by Derry Twp.
Thanks to his own weakness, Jones, didn't allow a hit, struck out nine in the seven innings, but he walked six and threw a wild pitch when it hurt the most.

GUTTERIDGE RELEASED

PITTSBURGH, May 12.—(INS)—
The Pittsburgh Pirates announced today that infielder Don Gutteridge has been released outright to Indianapolis of the Amer-

KILL THE UMP!

NEW YORK, May 12.—(INS)—
They say an umpire's lot is an unhappy one.

Red Jones and Bill Summers, members of the American League men in "Blue," are convinced today that this statement holds true.

Jones, who was calling 'em behind the plate, was hit in the chest
by a foul tip off Larry Doby's bat, in the fifth inning of yesterday's Yankee-Cleveland game. He was forced to retire for the afternoon.
Then Summers prepared to replace his fellow-arbiter behind the plate.

He tumbled down the Yankee dugout steps while adjusting his shin guards. The only injury was to his pride.

HIGHLAND WINS

Highland U.P. softball team upset the First Christians in a league game last night 4 to 2 at Boyles field, with J. Beacon and Mc-Anany the stars at bat. Jackie
"Copper" Llewellyn was the winning hurler allowing but three hits. The old timer looked pretty good.

THIRD U. P. WINS

The Third U. P. team won a church league opening game last night by trimming the First Baptists, at Rose avenue, 6 to 1, with Dale Weisbaker the winning hurler and "Dusty" Rhodes the loser.

NEW GALILEE CANCELS

Due to the condition of their playing field, New Galilee has announced that tonight's game with the Johnson Bronze and Friday's encounter with Hillsville have been cancelled.

CENTRAL PRESBY'S WIN

The Central Presbyterian church
softball team defeated the Wesley Union team 9 to 3 last night, opening the league. Kegars was the winning hurler, Alexander the loser.

Chrysler Strike in Detroit Has
Some Effect On Market
Trend This Morning

NEW YORK, May 12.—(INS)—
Stocks drifted irregularly lower in moderately active trading this
morning.

The Chrysler strike in Detroit,
the first major auto walkout since
November 1945, weighted most
groups. Losses were generally
fractional.

Aviations moved counter to the downward, staging a modest rally
after yesterday's sell-off.

Trading in the initial hour was less than the 400,000 shares in the same period Tuesday.

Chrysler was down nearly a point at the start of the second
hour. General Motors and Studebaker eased. Steels and rails were soft. Coppers, oils, and most high priced chemicals lost ground.

Lockheed and Douglas recovered
fractionally.

Railroad bonds were irregularly
lower. Curb shares followed a narrow, mixed trend. Grains opened firm but cotton was reactionary.

Healthy Teeth For Nations In Years To Come

CHICAGO, May 12.—(INS)—A dental authority predicted today that dentists may one day become as scarce as blacksmiths.

Dr. H. Trendley Dean, dental director of the U. S. Public Health Service, told the Illinois State Medical Society that sound, healthy teeth will probably be standard equipment on all future Americans.

Dr. Dean says the think that is going to put the dentist's drill in the museum—torture department is fluorine.

Prevents Decay He explained that the scientific story of how fluorine prevents dental decay—holes in the teeth—is not yet complete. But, he asserted, there is enough evidence at hand of the important decay-preventing action of fluorine to warrant its widespread use in treating water supplies.

In another paper prepared for delivery today, Dr. Herman Josephy, Chicago State hospital, reported that cancer is apparently rarer in mental patients than it is among the general population.

He said cancer was responsible for about 4.5 per cent of deaths of mental hospital patients as against 10 to 20 per cent for the general population.

Dr. George P. Guibor, of Children's Memorial hospital, Chicago, told the meeting that crossed eyes caused by injuries to the brain or by disturbances in the nervous system can be cured without surgery.

In 1940 Chicago was a trading post of 4,449 inhabitants.

Healthy Teeth For Nations In Years To Come

CHICAGO, May 12.—(INS)—A dental authority predicted today that dentists may one day become as scarce as blacksmiths.

Dr. H. Trendley Dean, dental director of the U. S. Public Health Service, told the Illinois State Medical Society that sound, healthy teeth will probably be standard equipment on all future Americans.

Dr. Dean says the think that is going to put the dentist's drill in the museum—fluorine department.

Prevents Decay
He explained that the scientific story of how fluorine prevents dental decay—or holes in the teeth—is not yet complete. But, he asserted, there is enough evidence at hand of the important decay-preventing action of fluorine to warrant its widespread use in treating water supplies.

In another paper prepared for delivery today, Dr. Herman Joseph, Chicago State Hospital, reported that cancer is apparently rarer in mental patients than it is among the general population.

It said cancer was responsible for about 4.5 per cent of deaths of mental hospital patients as against 10 to 20 per cent for the general population.

Dr. George P. Guilbur, of Children's Memorial Hospital, Chicago, told the meeting that crossed eyes caused by injuries to the brain or by disturbances in the nervous system can be cured without surgery.

In 1840 Chicago was a trading post of 4,419 inhabitants.
